

Friday Night Worship

Every Friday night, GVCS students are gathered in the school auditorium to have a special worship service. It's called FNL, an acronym for Friday Night Light. Unlike other worships in school, FNL worship is only organized with students. Students lead the worship, sing praises and play the instruments. Most of the time FNL is held in the auditorium but this week, the worship took place in the chapel. Special lighting and instruments were added this week. Also, one of the worship leaders and our school's senior student, Jason Jin gave out a personal message to the communion that we should have God as a navigator of our life. We often lose track of our life and question God why is my life leading me to places that I don't desire to be? Jason answers that we need to have trust in God and fully understand that God is leading us to the most fitted place to every single one of us. The message was suitable with the theme of that week's worship: On the Road. We all are on the road to become true

Christians and at the same time learning to live a proper life as sons and daughters of Christ. We must have faith in every step that we take in Him. FNL worship isn't perfect all the time since students are still learning how to prepare a proper worship. However, the true heart to praise God is what matters. As followers of Jesus Christ, we all need to take that in mind and worship.
